Award-winning photojournalist Ron Haviv has produced some of the most important images of conflict and humanitarian crises around the world that have made headlines since the end of the Cold War. A co-founder of VII, Haviv's work is published by top magazines worldwide including: Fortune, The New York Times Magazine, Time, Vanity Fair, Paris Match and Stern. He has published two critically acclaimed collections of his photography – “Blood and Honey: A Balkan War Journal,” and “Afghanistan: On the Road to Kabul” – and has contributed his wide-ranging body of work to several other books. Most recently, he has documented wars in Darfur and the Democratic Republic of Congo, as well as natural disasters in Haiti. His often-searing photographs have earned Haviv some of the highest accolades in photography, including awards from World Press Photo, Pictures of the Year, Overseas Press Club and the Leica Medal of Excellence.
